INJECTION

does not have to hurt

Your wellbeing is of great importance to us!

This is why we offer you pain free injections with a computer assisted system, CALAJECT™.

The system delivers a gentle but effective anaesthesia, which is comfortable and virtually pain free.

This helps reduce any anxiety and makes you better able to relax during your treatment.

- Leave the practice without a numb cheek, tongue and lip, when you are having a single-tooth anaesthetised.
- The impact is quick and easy with rapid onset of analgesia.
- Ask your dentist for further information.

COMPUTERIZED

anesthesia - why?

Computer assisted anaesthesia is delivered at a slow and steady pace that allows the analgesic solution time to fully disperse.

This means the impact of the anaesthesia begins before the injection is even completed, avoiding the unpleasant feeling of tightening and stinging in the oral tissue.

A manual injection (by ordinary syringe) can sometimes cause discomfort, especially if the injection is given too rapidly and the analgesic solution builds up in the tissue. This is avoided with computer assisted anaesthesia.
